Services can be utilized as and when required, and different packages offer different services. For more information regarding the services shown, click on the link associated with any you're interested in.

Go live progressively. Customers who adopt an iterative release style typically make better progress: teams benefit from experience, and leverage this to help increase velocity with each iteration.

If you've never engaged with Professional Services on a project before then Discovery, leveraged as a stand-alone workshop or as an integral part of a package engagement, is where we start.

Custom Implementation can be leveraged as a separate Professional Services package, but is also included as part of both a Standard and an Advanced package engagement.

Packages can be combined to suite your requirements, and some examples are shown. For more information regarding packages, click on the link associated with any you re interested in.
